'NIPHETOS' HYBRID TEA White Rose (pronounced neef' tos)

The Rose, Niphetos was used in the bouquet that was placed on the casket of the World War I soldier, who was thus designated as the Unknown Soldier before he departed France in 1921, on his last journey home to America. This rose is available in the US in limited quantities from Angel Gardens, Roses Unlimited and Greenmantle Nursery.

'NEVER FORGET' White Rose

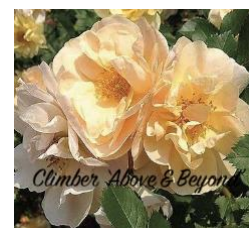

NEW white rose by Fabien Ducher of Roseraie Ducher Rose Nursery at Lyon, France. It is a lovely shrub rose, fragrant, repeat blooming and disease resistance on a large bush for the gardens. Generously named by Roseraie Ducher in honor of the Centennial of the Unknown Soldier, 2021. Grown in Arizona by Tyler Francis; available 2021 in limited quantities in the US from Certified Roses.

'DUCHER' TEA/CHINA WHITE

The outstanding tea/China rose, Ducher was created in 1869 by Joseph Pernet-Ducher whose nursery is believed to be the source of the rose bouquet for the ceremony designating the Unknown Soldier in 1921. Designated "EarthKind" rose. This rose is available in the US from Antique Rose Emporium, other rose nurseries.

The Society of the Honor Guard has designated the white rose its official flower and encourages the planting of white roses, with special emphasis on the rose 'Niphetos', which played a prominent role in the selection of the World War I Unknown Soldier.

The planting of the Rose, America's National Floral Emblem, is a major feature of the Society's 'Never Forget Garden' project, an important element of the overall Centennial plans.

While the Centennial and the 'Never Forget Garden' project emphasize the white rose, the use of roses in all colors is encouraged, as they speak of patriotism, give comfort, and represent love, pride, remembrance, strength, courage, unity, valor and all matters of the heart.

The planting of roses in every 'Never Forget Garden' is a goal of the American Rose Society. There is a rose for everyone – some are easier to care for than others. The ARS stands ready to help you choose the right rose for your 'Never Forget Garden'.
