KEYPLEX® H|G™ • Essential Plant Micronutrient Supplement KeyPlex HG is a foliar plant nutritional supplement formulated for general plant use on home landscapes, fruit trees and vegetable gardens. It contains secondary and micronutrients, alpha-keto acids and humic acid, and may be applied as a foliar spray and/or a soil drench. KeyPlex HG is non-toxic to children and pets; it is biodegradable and otherwise eco-friendly. Application of KeyPlex HG every two weeks during the growing season is recommended in conjunction with the use of a general (N-P-K) fertilizer. A properly nourished plant – that is, one without micronutrient deficiencies – grows faster, produces more blooms, produces more fruit or vegetables, and is more tolerant of environmental stresses such as drought and heat.
