

Duchesse de Brabant
The Anne Belovich Rambler Collection

Elisabeth's Red China

Forest Ranch Pompom

G. Nabbonand

Gatewood Street San Andreas

Gen. John Pershing

Health Food

Hoag House Cream

Jim Henley

Jost Plot Tea

Kathrinerl

King Plot Noisette

Lady Hillingdon

Ladyfingers

Manetti

Mystery

Niles Cochet

Peggy Martin

The Sky's the Limit

Petite Perle d'Or

What is a Rambling Rose?

“A chaos of classification”

Distinctive characteristics

Vigorous growth

Once-blooming

Long, lax, trailing canes

Hybrids of Setigera, Wichurana, Multiflora, Ayrshire, Sempervirens

Rambler class re-instated by ARS

Still chaotic!!

We know them when we see them!

Who was Anne Belovich?

Ocean was her first love

No Challenge Too Great

*WWII widow, single mother, microbiologist, college professor,
competitive runner,
houseboat dweller,
transoceanic captain/navigator, dog sled racer, co-founder of humane society,
general contractor*

Retired to Washington State

The house that Max and Anne built

Dogs and Roses

Roses Climbing Fences and Trees

A Tour of French Rose Gardens

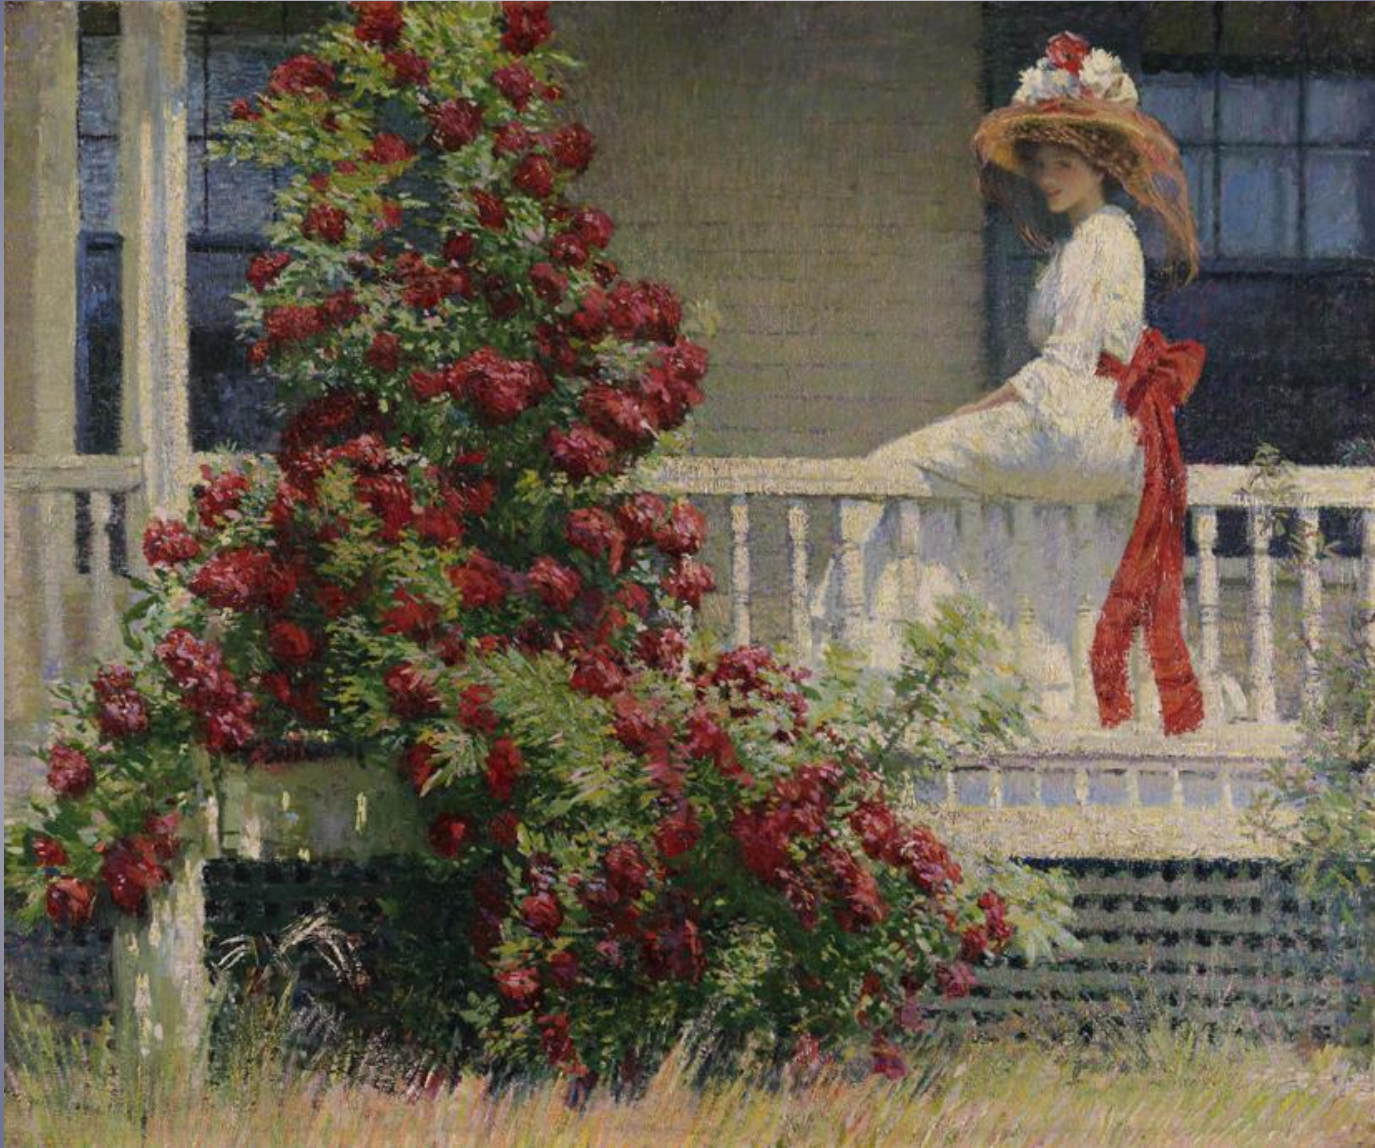

Chateau de Lacroix-Lavelle

La Bonne Maison

Odile Masquillier's Garden, Lyon, France

Childhood Memories

The Crimson Rambler, Phillip Leslie Hale, 1908

Max Built Structures

Clouds of Roses

Pergolas and Other Supports

Covering Old Buildings

Masses of Roses Everywhere

A Blind Passion for Roses

“Roses to me are miraculous.”

“Is it an obsession or love affair?”

“Addicted to roses.”

“History-filled vessels of unique genetic materials.”

Many roses not available in North America

Paul Ploton, 1910

What's the answer? Import them!

Hakeburg, 1912

Jules Levacher, 1908

Return Trip to Europe, 2003

23 Rose Gardens

Europa Rosarium, Sangerhausen, Germany

Carla Fineschi Rose Garden, Cavriglia, Italy

Ninfa, Italy: the ultimate romantic garden

More European Imports

Roby, 1912. Eleanore Berkeley, before 1902

Repatriating American Roses

*Anne and Harald Enders
Europa Rosarium, Sangerhausen, Germany*

How ensure a rose survives?

3-3-30

3 Nurseries

3 Public Gardens

30 Private Gardens

“To save the rare roses, you have to give them away.”

“There’s always room for a rambling rose....”

La Fraicheur, 1921

El Cerrito Heritage Rose Foundation conference, 2005

Red Rose Ridge

The Garden of the Gods, Willits, CA

Red Rose Ridge

Red Rose Ridge

Aristide Briand, 1928

Chambersville, Texas

The Anne Belovich Rambler Collection

Anne's Garden - Stanwood, WA

Roses are under there - somewhere

Anne's Garden - Stanwood, WA

*A Family Endeavor
Great-granddaughter Avery*

Anne's Garden - Stanwood, WA

Cleanup Continues

Heritage Roses PNW, Seattle Rose Society

Floret Flower Farm, Skagit, WA

Documenting, Identifying, Cleaning Up

Floret Flower Farm, Skagit, WA

Taking Cuttings

Floret Flower Farm, Skagit, WA

Propagating

Books

Another way to save roses for posterity

The Sky's the Limit

"It is never too late to act on your goals and dreams."